Dedicate Religious Center on Oct. 18-24

A week of dedication activities for the new Religious Center at SIU-SW will begin Monday, Oct. 18. The formal dedication service will be held Oct. 24.

Theme of the week will be "Campus Ministry and the University in the Mutual Task of Liberation."

Purpose of the United Campus Ministry is to "make visible and real the life-giving, liberating presence of Christ as it serves the whole man and the total university community in varied ways, the Rev. Marcus Pera of the SIU-SW campus ministry reports.

The clergymen and denominations in the United Campus Ministry represented at SIU-SW are: Marcus Pera, Lutheran; Michael Pullin, Episcopal; Virgil Santee, American Baptist; James Shortall, Roman Catholic; Robert Treat, United Methodist; and Russell Wigfield, United Christian Foundation.

The six denominations will minister jointly in the new Religious Center and the structure also will be open to all expressions of religious faith.

The privately-financed Religious Center was designed by R. Buckminster Fuller, internationally famous designer and SIU-SW professor.

The building supports a geodesic dome in the form of a globe with the blue plexiglass depicting the waters of the earth and the clear plexiglass representing the continents. Besides the open dome area, the building contains a secretary work room, a library-counseling room, six offices and three larger meeting rooms.

The 90th meridian runs through the center of the building and an observer inside the dome can view the earth as it would appear from its axis.

Rev. Pera relates, "In what Fuller calls the stages of man's religious development, God was, in the past, localized or contained. This was true in the pyramids as well as the cathedrals.

"Now, the University is the center for searching knowledge of all aspects of man and his ever-expanding environment. Campus ministry preaches that within this search, God mysteriously remains at the center of all, giving meaning to the world's complex existence, Rev. Pera says.

Activities during the week will include daytime programs for students, faculty and staff, and evening programs for the community at large.

Guest speakers for the week include the Rev. Wayne Saffin, University of Chicago, who speaks at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 18. On Tuesday, Oct. 19, at 7:30 p.m., the Rev. Fred Adams will speak on "Liberation."

112 Students Transfer

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

Tomorrow 112 seventh and eighth grade students at Dunbar School will transfer to Madison Junior High School. An earlier court ruling held that students in those grades at Dunbar could attend either school, depending on their choice.

Dunbar's seventh and eighth grades will shrink from 86 and 91 to 35 and 30. Junior High classes, in the same order, will increase from 134 and 102 to 155 and 163.

The decision by Circuit Judge William Beatty Sept. 9 was on a suit filed by Rex Carr, East St. Louis attorney, for five mothers of Dunbar pupils.

School Supt. Fred Riddle, said this week that preparations have been made for transfer of teachers and rescheduling of classroom space to provide for the 112 additional students at the Junior High and the equivalent reduction at Dunbar.

"If many more or less than the scheduled number transfer, we will have a problem," Riddle said, adding that it might be necessary for the junior high to operate on split shifts.

If fewer transfer, teacher assignments will be reviewed.

In a letter to all parents of seventh and eighth grade pupils in the Madison district, Riddle said, "This change at this particular time of the school year presents a very difficult problem for everyone involved—students, teachers, school administrators and parents.

"We can only appeal to those involved to cooperate in every possible way. Only through cooperation and understanding can a smooth, efficient transition take place."

Four teachers will be transferred from Dunbar to the junior high and two others will divide their time between the two schools.

$4,245 Is Ordered Repaid

Two former Nameoki township officials must repay the township more than $4,000 in per diem fees which they received in addition to other compensation while serving on the town board of auditors, according to a ruling late last week by Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark at Edwardsville.

Defendants in separate cases filed by the present Nameoki township administration are former Supervisor Harry Briggs and John Karlechick, former town clerk.

Judge Clark ruled that payment of per diem fees to both officials for attending town board meetings "was contrary to the statutes covering said compensation." He also overruled motions by the defendants that the township's claim for repayment was barred by a statute of limitations.

Judgment of $3,000 plus court costs was entered against Briggs in an order pointing out that Briggs, as supervisor, was paid by regularly budgeted per diem fees as set by the electors, but received in addition $3,605 in fees for attending town meetings from June 1957 through April 1969.

The court held that Karlechick, while receiving a regular salary as town clerk, also received $1,240 in fees for attending town meetings.

Students selected as having written the best UF essays are Lisa Groothuis, junior high school students; Jackie Billelo, elementary intermediate grade; and Theresa Narup, primary grades. Two of their essays are

Crash Kills Madisonian

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

Joe Walter Jr., 32, of 811 Jackson St., West Madison, was killed when his auto collided head-on with a car driven by Meredith Mullen, 23, of 1322 Seventh St., Madison, at 9:20 a.m. Saturday on the McCambridge Avenue viaduct in Madison.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The truck is capable of spraying about 150 gallons of water per minute onto the streets, cleaning from one gutter to the other in one pass. The flushing is particularly effective immediately following cleaning of the street by a regular street sweeper machine. The water is forced by a pressure pump through four sprayers at the front and side of the vehicle.

The pressure also can be utilized to spray trees through a hose attachment or, in an emergency, could be utilized in fighting a fire.

When full, the truck carries 2,500 gallons of water which could be sprayed out in 17 minutes.

The rear of the vehicle contains a vacuum system capable of producing suction equivalent to a 200 miles per hour wind.

The suction is directed through a large hose and can be moved by a small hydraulically-operated crane system.

The unit will be operated by a two-man team and will be utilized extensively, Lionel Portell, street superintendent, commented.

The truck was placed in use late last week in a short ceremony attended by Portell, Granite City Alderman Roy Poulos and Maurice Rich, president of the Downtown Granite City Association.

Assured of Victory

Cong. Price alluded only briefly to the approaching elections, expressing confidence of a Democratic victory "all down the line" in next year's elections.

Simon mentioned "growing dissent" by the people toward the present state administration.

He called on the Democrats to "weld their forces" and promised that, after the vote is tallied in November 1972, "you will have a governor who is from Madison County."

State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon of Belleville also attended but did not speak. Michael J. Howlett, state auditor, had been expected, but was unable to appear because of other commitments.

Simon left shortly after his talk to attend a meeting in Carbondale.

District and county officials took advantage of the overflow crowd, seated six at a table at more than 80 tables, and got in a full evening of hand-shaking and greeting constituents.

Politics were the order of the day.

State Senator Sam Vandaline of Edwardsville, and State Representatives Horace Calvo of Granite City and Leland J. Kennedy of Alton attended, as did Madison and St. Clair county officials.

Fountains of champagne and wine flowed throughout the evening at each end of the vast hall and a separate bar served drinks. The dinner was served buffet style.

The hall was decorated on three sides in a circus theme while the fourth side was covered with large billboards depicting circus characters.

The decorating was done by the women's Democratic organization, which used hundreds of thousands of small squares of paper, stuffed into a mesh of chicken mesh, to form the decorations on the three walls.

Voluntary Blood Donations Necessary to Reduce Risk of Hepatitis, Governor Says

By GOVERNOR RICHARD B. OGILVIE

A vast citizens' campaign is getting under way in Illinois to save lives and prevent disease. With the wholehearted support of state government, private organizations and health officials in many communities are launching a statewide effort to establish a totally voluntary blood donor program.

The implications of such a program are tremendous. The life of any of us who ever undergo major surgery may depend upon the success of the effort.

To get some idea of how much this means to improving the health of Illinois citizens, consider the present tragic situation: Studies show that up to 60% of the blood drawn for transfusions in many major American cities—including Chicago—comes from commercial donors. Those are the people who sell a pint of blood for $5 or $10 to a commercial or non-profit blood bank.

Of course, there is nothing wrong with selling blood. But the trouble is that too many of these paid donors are drug addicts and Skid Row derelicts trying to get enough money to buy another fix of heroin or a bottle of cheap wine.

And it is in the wretched conditions where they live that the dangerous hepatitis virus thrives.

As a result, the blood they sell to commercial blood operators is frequently infected with hepatitis.

Serum hepatitis is caused by the transmission of contaminated blood. It can mean long hospital stays, and for those who are already weakened by disease or injuries it can mean death.

There were 5,000 cases of the disease in Illinois last year, and about 250 of the victims died. What makes it especially serious is that modern laboratory techniques can detect the presence of the virus in only a fraction of the contaminated blood. The risk of receiving such blood on the operating table is completely unacceptable in this era of modern medical science.

Although a patient pays at least five times more for blood from commercial sources than he would for blood from volunteer donors, his chance of contracting hepatitis is 10 times greater.

In an age of medical miracles, this is the ultimate tragedy. Hundreds of lives are saved each year in the operating room with amazing new drugs and medical techniques—only to be lost when poisoned blood is pumped into the patients' veins.

Somehow, we have to reduce that risk. And the obvious way is to increase our supply of volunteer blood.

That's what this new program is all about.

At my request, the General Assembly last spring set aside $100,000 for the establishment of a statewide computerized system for inventorying and cataloging blood, and to assist private organizations in recruiting new donors.

Last month, I had the pleasure of presenting the first check, for $10,000, to officers of the Metropolitan Chicago Blood Council to help sign up 250,000 blood donors in the Chicago area alone.

And similar programs are getting under way in other communities.

Our eventual goal is nothing less than to eliminate entirely the use of commercial blood.

This program differs from previous blood drives in one important respect:

We are not actually asking for blood. Rather, we are asking people to pledge to donate blood at the time when it is needed.

In this manner, medical officials can assure the availability of blood—which has a limited life before it becomes useless—on a regular, constant basis.

There is another aspect to the blood program which has nothing to do with public health. This is the aspect of voluntarism, of giving individual citizens who care about their fellow men an outlet for their concern.

No effort we undertake could more eloquently combine our determination to enhance the quality of our lives with the overriding need for effective, selfless citizen involvement.

In every sense, this is a citizen program. Its success depends entirely on the people of Illinois—not on its government.

Government cannot manufacture blood, nor can it force citizens to donate blood. But it can play a subsidiary role in providing the financial and technical resources to help get a voluntary blood program off the ground.

I believe that's the most important role of government—harnessing the tremendous energies and concerns of individual citizens, and channeling them into pursuits which work to everybody's benefit.

That certainly describes the volunteer blood donor program. It's a private effort, fueled by people who care, run by the people who appreciate the problem, and financed in part by government resources.

It is a citizen effort, and it may one day mean better health for all of us.

New, Younger Crop of Voters

By RAY SERATO
 Copy News Service

Springfield — Registration of near-voter voters continues in Illinois.

But state election officials can't really say how many have been registered by the county and city election officials. They point out that under Illinois laws, once a person is registered, the individual record is integrated with the other election records, making it difficult to determine the age of the voter.

Also, election records are not kept according to age groups, but in one large lump sum or total.

Election officials say that by the time the March primary election rolls around next year, there "will be many new voters." There are some drives on various college campuses to get 18-year-olds registered.

But this may cause problems. There are those who say the college student is ineligible to vote in the city where the college is located unless he is actually a resident.

They point out that many of the students live in dormitories; this would make the city where their parents are now living the voting address. Under this system, the students would have to cast an absentee ballot.

However, student leaders counter by saying that in some cases they are counted in various census programs of the individual communities for such things as motor fuel tax money paid to the community by the state. They maintain that if they are counted on a census, they should be eligible to vote in the city.

In the sixth-month session of the 77th General Assembly earlier this year, Rep. Charles Clabaugh, R-Champaign, had a bill which was aimed at this problem. His district is the home of

Speaker Service Is Being Offered by 'Y'

With many PTAs, clubs, service organizations and church groups starting to organize their fall, winter and spring schedules of meetings, the Tri-City YMCA is making known to the public that members of the YMCA's professional and specialized staff are available for addresses and demonstrations for adult and youth groups.

Topics range from management, organization, leadership training, social structures, tennis, health, fitness, exercises, diets, swimming, bicycling, scuba water safety, judo, self-defense, camping and religious and inspirational addresses.

Groups are to contact Membership Director Kent D. Dunn at the "Y," 876-7200, to arrange for such speakers.

the giant University of Illinois. The Clabaugh bill sought to set out the legal requirements for a student to vote in a city which has a university. However, the bill ran into legislative problems and it was not passed. Perhaps Clabaugh may try the bill again next year.

At any rate, Illinois — like many other states — is currently getting a new crop of voters.

FIRE DAMAGE to this Arlington Heights Apartments building was estimated at several thousand dollars after a blaze gutted the second floor early yesterday. The fire apparently started in the bedroom at upper right. Four families in the unit escaped with most of their belongings.

Fire Guts Apartment Units At Arlington Heights

Fire caused extensive damage to an Arlington Heights Apartment building early yesterday, driving four families from the building.

The four unit apartment building, unit 1, at Melvin and Arlington drives, was gutted in the two upstairs units. Smoke and water damaged the downstairs apartments.

Jack Harper, chief of the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department, who said firemen received the alarm at 2:15 a.m., estimated damage at several thousand dollars. The building, owned by Granite Investment Co. of Granite City was valued at $35,000.

The fire apparently started in the bedroom of the upstairs east apartment of Marvin Thompson. Most of the damage was confined to Thompson's apartment, but the apartments of Donald Clark, John Thomas and Ronald Schmeisser also were damaged.

The occupants escaped injury. They were relocated in other apartments in the complex. Firemen left the lights on for nearly 30 minutes after arriving while the families and friends removed their belongings.

Flames Break Through
Flames from the blaze leaped approximately 30 feet into the air after breaking through the wood shingle roof. They could be seen from the intersection of Route 111 and the Granite City Collinsville Road when firemen arrived, Harper reported.

The present celebration comes close on the heels of the grand opening of the store which was closed on May 20 for 75 days due to a fire. It reopened Aug. 3 with a four-week grand opening sale.

Defense Prevails, GC Held to Tie at Alton

By STEVE BURDGE
GCHS Football Writer

The Granite City High School Warrior football team was shut out Saturday afternoon for the second game in a row. But this time the defense held off the Redbirds attack at Alton and the teams tied, 0-0.

This also was the second week in which Alton was shut out. Before these two weeks, the Redbirds had scored in 45 consecutive games.

The Warriors on offense just could not get things started. And when they did, a fumble or a penalty would take their scoring threat right away.

Stan Stajduhar, Granite City's leading rusher, was hampered by injuries and was not running as well as in past games. Fullbacks Jim Robbers and Gary Lively were out with injuries. Chuck Krause, a defensive tackle, moved into the fullback position; it was his first time in the backfield.

The GCHS defense played an outstanding game. Much of the credit goes to Joe Wallace, Tom Kalert and Dave Carmody. Carmody played most of the game with a cut over his left eye requiring 12 stitches.

Due to the effective defense, Alton threatened only once in the game. On six running plays and a pass, the Redbirds moved the ball 46 yards from the Alton 21 to the GCHS 33.

At that point, a clipping penalty and tougher defense halted the advance.

The Warriors sustained two major drives. Taking the second-half kickoff, Granite City went on the march from its own 33-yard line.

Three runs by Stajduhar took the ball to the Alton 49. After a loss, Wallace passed to Kevin Dyer, who was tackled at the 41.

Two plays later, the Warriors fumbled and Alton recovered on its 39. However, the Redbirds were able to go nowhere during the entire second half.

With four minutes left in the game, the Warrior defense pressured Alton on Quarterback Bob Hansberry into throwing an interception to Dave Macias.

The Warriors began a drive from their 29-yard line. Two running plays were unproductive but Wallace passed to Dyer for a first down at the 42.

Following two more runs, Wallace passed toward Bob Wiggins and pass interference was called against Alton, placing the ball on the Redbird 45.

With runs moving the line of scrimmage to the 40, Wallace scrambled to Dyer for a first down on the 33, creating hopes of a score by either a touchdown or field goal.

A loss of 12 yards occurred on the next play, with Stajduhar then gaining 12 to return the ball to the 33. A penalty pushed the Warriors back to midfield and time began to run out. Three plays later, the game was over.

Both GCHS and Alton occupy fourth place with Southwestern Conference records of a loss and a tie each. Next, the Warriors will play their annual homecoming game at 8 p.m. Friday, hosting the Belleville East Lancers.

Trojans Play Well at Sparta But Lose, 13-6

The Madison High School gridiron Trojans found at Sparta Friday night that it just wasn't their night. As the game started, so did rain and the rainfall continued throughout the evening, stalling the MHS offense in a 13-6 loss to Sparta's Bulldogs.

Quarter scores were 7-0, 7-6, 7-6 and 13-6. The Trojan point-maker was Halfback Ed Chandler, who rambled 60 yards for a touchdown.

In the first quarter, Sparta adjusted quickly to the rain and ground its way toward the goal line, aided by a penalty. Mike Collins tallied on a 14-yard run. When John Robinson kicked the extra point, the Bulldogs had a 7-0 lead.

It looked for a while as if the contest might become one-sided. Madison failed to punt three times in the first period but began to jell in the second quarter.

Sparta advanced to the MHS 27 and the Trojan defense began to make its presence felt. Six runnings plays and a penalty resulted in an aggregate Sparta loss of 19 yards.

Madison took possession on its own 12-yard-line. After a first down and a penalty had advanced the line of scrimmage to the MHS 40, Chandler broke loose for his long TD run. A kick failed and the Trojans remained one point short of a tie at 7-6.

Robinson intercepted a Trojan pass during the second period and Madison's Chandler intercepted one enemy aerial. Chandler lost his footing due to the wet grass as he hauled in the Bulldog pass and the halftime intermission arrived before Madison could launch a drive.

In the third quarter, both teams generated threats but were plagued by fumbles.

Robison gave his squad a bit of breathing room in the final period by intercepting a pass and carrying it 15 yards for a TD. The kick for another point failed.

Madison trailed 7-6 in first downs but led 13-12 in yardage, aided by Chandler's 114 yards in 23 runs.

Neither team completed a pass. MHS trying seven and Sparta four.

Cougars, Chicago Battle to Draw

To the knowledgeable soccer fan the game is just like chess, but with constantly shifting (the players) pieces on a huge (120 by 75 yards field) board. There are moves and rapid counter moves and sometimes the games end in stalemate if the two teams are equal.

That's what happened Saturday as Southern Illinois University Southwestern's nationally-ranked Cougars had to battle from behind to earn a 1-1 tie with the University of Illinois Chicago Circle Chikas team of Coach Jim Donnelly. Two five-minute overtime periods failed to break the tie.

Coach Bob Guelker's SIU-SW Cougars won the battle of the statistics, registering 33 shots-on-goal to Circle's 20 and earning four corner kicks to the visitors' two, but the result was a disappointment to both coaches.

Said Guelker: "We just didn't have the 'finish' we've had in our previous three games and they (Circle) have one of the nation's best club, make no mistake about it. They're tough."

Young Coach Donnelly was equally disappointed: "We had 'em and let them get away."

The first two periods was a rugged, hard-fought defensive battle, but with the Cougars holding a slight edge in the offensive stats... sixteen to nine shots-on-goal.

At 11:37 into the third period, Circle's veteran, building Ibrahim Adel took advantage of one of the few SIU-SW defensive lapses and booted in a "gorgeous" ball into the net from about 30 feet out beating the Cougars' goalie Rick Benben. It was the second score Benben has allowed this season.

At 7:45 into the fourth period, with SIU-SW pouring on the pressure to tie the game up, came a break which probably decided the result. Little John "Dino" Deinoski, the Cougars' ball control artist and play-maker, was thrown out of the game following an exchange of blows with the Chikas' Gabilino Sandoval. Sandoval was also tossed out.

It was decisive, or could have been, because less than three minutes before Dino's banishment he had brought the ball down field and fed into Tommie Howe, who left-footed the ball past Circle's All-American goalie, Ray Roy, for the tying score.

The tie makes SIU-SW's record 3-0-1.

The Cougars will travel across the river next Saturday (11 a.m.) to take on the tough Rivermen of the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

SIU Trustees to Meet Friday at Carbondale

The Southern Illinois University board of trustees will hold its October meeting Friday at the Carbondale campus.

The board will convene at 9:30 a.m. in Grinnell Hall, the commons building associated with the university's Brush Towers high rise dormitories, east of U. S. Route 51.

Items on the agenda affect operations at both SIU-Carbondale and SIU-Southwestern.

Warrior Soccer Squad Kicks the Kahoks, 3-0

The Granite City High School Warriors will meet St. Thomas at 2:30 p.m. while Collinsville meets Jacksonville. The winners of the two games will play for the championship at 6:30 p.m.

The local Warriors crowded the Kahok net for 46 attempts on goal while the Kahoks made four.

The strong Warrior offense maintained control of the ball about 80% of the game, keeping the Kahoks backs to their net most of the time.

The first Warrior score came on a pass from Jerry Duncan to Bill Bronbauer in front of the net 14 minutes into the first half. Fourteen minutes later Duncan took a kick from Jim Conway on the left and diverted it into the net.

Ten minutes into the second half, Jim Conway passed to Bronbauer for the final score. The two goals gave Bronbauer three goals for the season, the most of any Warrior player. He also leads in assists with three.

The Warrior kickers move into action at Assumption High School at 7 p.m. tomorrow for their fourth straight victory. The game will be the first of the season for Coach Vince Chawgo, who is directing a young team.

The Granite City Squad will enter the Central Illinois Tournament at Jacksonville on Saturday. In the first round the ## Things are seldom what they seem.

Big cars often pose as big cars, when they're really small cars.

For instance:

Notice how much bigger the big car seems than the Volkswagen Squareback Sedan.

Then count the number of suitcases it can take on only 12.

Now, notice how small the Squareback seems to be.

Then count the number of suitcases it can take on 16.

That's because the Squareback has 32.8 cubic feet of carrying space.

Which is one and a half times as much as that of the largest sedan trunk.

Of course, if you really have a lot to carry you can always fold down the Squareback's rear seat. Then you'll have more than twice as much carrying space as the largest sedan trunk.

So which would you rather have? A sedan that looks like a big bully but really is a 12-suitcase weakling? Or a little fella who's really a 16-suitcase giant?

The council is an advisory body to the Comprehensive State Health Planning Agency. Its primary goal is to assist the agency "as an organization for action in developing and sustaining comprehensive health planning as it relates to health services, facilities, manpower, economics, information and environment."

County Share of State Income Tax is $214,043

Madison County's share of state income taxes collected by the state in September totals $214,043, according to the office of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

Granite City received $34,458, Madison $6,000, Venice $3,987 and Pontoon Beach $2,086, while the Madison County government received $64,535.

Totals paid so far this fiscal year, followed by the total paid last fiscal year, include: Granite City, $41,314 and $24,315; Madison, $7,194 and $49,090; Venice, $4,781 and $35,538; Pontoon Beach, $2,200 and $8,633; Madison County government, $77,403 and $487,801; and total Madison County, $236,626 and $1,203,062.

Distribution to all Illinois counties and municipalities from last month's collection totals $9,470,182.

Computation of each municipality's share is based on its incorporated area's population, and a county government share is based on the population of the unincorporated area.

The total distributed to counties and municipalities since the income tax begins in 1969 is more than $151½ million.

Board Favors Mobile Homes, Opposes Stable

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has recommended that three requests for special use permits to place mobile homes in R-4 zoned single-family residence districts be granted. It opposes rezoning three tracts of land from agricultural to R-2.

Edgar Anderson proposes a mobile home in Venice Township for the duration of its occupancy. Marshall Orsburn made a similar request to place a mobile home in Nameoki Township, and Lloyd Miller and Larry W. Jenkins asked that they be permitted to place a mobile home in Nameoki Township.

The board recommended denial of the petition of Lester Segar, Fannie Willard, Otto Willard and John Sobol to rezone three tracts, with a special use permit for private stables for use by residents of the property and their guests in Chouteau Township.

Cub Leader Training

The third and fourth cub scout leader training sessions will be given in a combined meeting at 7 o'clock tonight at St. Peter's United Church of Christ. Training at the meeting will include keeping financial and den records and games and activities. Women with "den doodles" are to bring them.

Homeowners Warned on

Furnace Repair Deals

Illinois Atty. Gen. William J. Scott has warned homeowners to beware of scrupulous heating and furnace contractors who solicit customers on a door-to-door basis.

Scott said such contractors are particularly active during the fall season when homeowners are preparing for the severe Illinois winter.

These persons operate by offering to inspect the furnace at no cost or to clean it for $10 or $15, Scott explained. When they obtain access to the furnace by such means they then tell the homeowner that the furnace is in a dangerous condition, and convince him to sign a contract for expensive repairs, the attorney general said.

Scott asked that anyone who has been the victim of an unscrupulous contractor inform his Consumer Fraud and Protection Division at the Supreme Court Building in Springfield. The phone is 217-544-4871.

Levee District Lacks

Funds for Pump Repair

The East Side Levee and Sanitary District will advertise for bids for repairs to the North Pumping Station at East St. and the contractor who is awarded the contract will be asked to wait for his money until next year, it was decided at a meeting of the levee board of trustees Friday.

Because of its poor financial condition, the district is without funds to make the repairs which are estimated at $25,000. The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has instructed the district to make repairs immediately because of the danger of flooding interior areas of Madison and St. Clair county.

A army engineers claim the pumping station is choked with silt. The pumps are necessary to force interior drainage into the Mississippi River at high stages. They help drain the Cahokia drainage canal which carries stormwater from Horseshoe Lake and surface drainage from the lake and bluffs.

The levee district is to receive $48,000 in state funds to cover losses due to last year's reduction in property values, but William "Mike" Ebersold, board president, said most of this money will be needed to meet salaries and other levee district claims.

Among the items to be auctioned are refrigerators, stoves, 3 office desks, 6-bay ice cream box, chairs, couch, beds, games, kitchen cabinets, beds, games, lawn mowers, table, dishes, clothing, vacuum cleaners, televisions and other household goods, Worthen said.

This Week in America's History

1771—North and South Carolina, long administered as a single colony, known as Carolina, had only become separate royal provinces in 1729, and the boundary set although it was to be redrawn in 1771 and again in 1845.

By 1771, agriculture, industry and trade had developed considerably, and living standards had risen.

The first settlements by Europeans in the area of the 13 colonies were attempted in the area of the Carolinas between 1584 and 1587, but no permanent settlement was made until 1670, by which time there were established settlements in a number of other sections to the north.

After 1680 Charleston was to become a thriving port and a colonial center.

Rice and indigo were planted in the colony, and became important commercial products of plantations operated by slave labor, and tobacco, and cotton later were added.

The first opera performance in the New World was to be offered in Charleston in 1735.

The first permanent theater was established there in 1736; the first free school for Negroes in 1740; probably the first musical society, formed in 1762, and still existing; and the first public museum, opened in 1773.

It was the capital until 1786, when Columbia was officially created as a new city.

The northern section, now North Carolina, developed more slowly because of misgovernment, internal disputes, a ban on shipment of its products out of Virginia ports, and a boundary dispute with that colony; smuggling, and the loss of the poor transportation, and Indian troubles, including the Tuscarora War in 1711-1713.

There were no towns until after 1700, but the area did prosper from that time with a population nearing 300,000 in 1775.

The river port of New Bern, settled in 1710 by a Swiss group, and known originally as Bern, was the capital from 1774 until that function was transferred to Raleigh in 1790.

1821—Edmund Keen, English tragedian, had made his American debut in New York in "Richard III" in 1820.

In 1821, Brutus Booth, also noted as an English actor, made his U. S. debut in the same play in Richmond, Va.

George Williams, (later Sir George), was born in Somerset, England. To become founder and president of the Young Men's Christian Association in 1861, 1884, along with 11 other men.

Branches established in Boston and Montreal in 1851 and ultimately in about 70 countries with about two million members.

He also became president of the London dry goods firm where he had worked in 1842, at 22, and where he had induced some of the employees to hold regular prayer meetings.

1871—Smith College chartered as college for women at Northampton, Mass., although first classes did not meet until 1875.

Ursuline College for Women also established at Cleveland.

Mexican presidential elections held, with three candidates.

None received a majority, and the national Congress appointed Benito Juarez, who had been elected as president in 1867, to the office.

French-sponsored regime of Maximilian (1864-1867), and re-elected in 1867.

There was no town until after 1700, but the area did prosper from that time with a population nearing 300,000 in 1775.

'Right to Read' Director Has Set An Ambitious Goal-99% Literacy

By KENNETH J. RABBE
Copley News Service

If you can't make it in reading, you can't make it in school, says Ruth Love, director of the "Right to Read" program.

She picked the U. S. Office of Education's 18-month-old effort to upgrade reading instruction from several prestigious posts offered her in Washington this year "because it holds the greatest potential to reform education."

It is determination, drive and a well-reasoned plan are an indication, Dr. Love says, that will pull the 99% of our citizens 16 and above will be functionally literate by 1980.

A functionally literate person can read newspapers, job applications, Social Security, unemployment and Medicare forms, court notices and directions and signs in factories, businesses, subways and at other transit stops.

Such an individual can experience the joy of a poem, visit far-off lands through the pages of a book, relax with an engrossing biography from the cares of the day with a humorous magazine article.

Seven million pupils — about 16% of the public school population — and 85 million adults don't read as well as they should to get along in the world. The statistics are sufficient and the problem probably is worse.

Poor readers are falling far behind than ever because our technological society's reading requirements are increasing at a fantastic rate.

Youngsters in many urban areas are 12 to 18 months behind their contemporaries nationwide in reading ability.

Dr. Love says the knowledge exists now to solve most reading problems and most children and adults can learn to read.

She plans to put research results into practice this fall in 120 demonstration projects nationwide and to restructure and revitalize existing programs costing about $500 million.

Her plans focus on four

But It Could Happen Odds Against Full-Fledged Democratic Primary Battle

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service
Springfield — The Statehouse is holding its political breath. Will the Democrats really have an open primary?

Odds are still against it, but the possibility is being taken seriously and this in itself is a development of significance. As in all Democratic political matters in this state, Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley will make the ultimate decision.

Actually, most party regulars, including Downstate Democrats, would prefer sticking to the tried and true slate-making procedure. It not only saves money for all concerned, but gives Democrats the advantage of going into the fall campaign without the divisive bitterness of a primary campaign that usually lingers to hurt the Republicans.

Why would Daley consider a change?

There are a number of possible reasons, but the chief one probably concerns Daley himself. There have been increasing indications that the mayor has become deeply sensitive about his own public image.

He is known to be extremely touchy about the best-selling and critical biography, "Boss-Daley of Chicago." The controversy over the Democratic national convention at Chicago still smolders.

The Illinois race track story—involves many prominent Democrats who reached their prominence because of Daley's help—is another source of irritation to the mayor.

Daley may well consider himself the harassed father who is blamed for everything that goes wrong in the household. From a strictly political standpoint, Democrats in Illinois have high hopes of scoring big next year.

They are confident of winning.

ning the governorship and secretary of state. They feel they have some chance at attorney general and U. S. Senate, and that they may even be able to win the Democratic presidential nominee.

But a year from now, if all these hopes go down the drain, there is little question as to who will be blamed. It will be Daley.

The mayor could take himself off the future hook by dropping the slate-making process, which he is considered to dominate, and let the Democratic rank and file choose their candidates, including the all-important governor nominee, at the primary ballot box.

Another factor to be considered is that Daley may now be more concerned with national politics than state. He is expected to have a big say as the Democrats nominate a candidate for President, and he may want to concentrate on that matter rather than the purely state races.

The mayor has an added problem in controlling the Illinois convention delegates in that, under a new law, delegates will be chosen differently than in the past.

A new Illinois law requires that candidates seeking election as delegates to the national nominating convention declare preferences for particular Presidential hopefuls or identify themselves as uncommitted.

There is a feeling that in many districts, candidates running under the uncommitted label will, in fact, be pledged to follow Daley's dictates.

Electing such delegates would be a major enterprise in itself and Daley might want to concentrate on that without becoming directly involved in helping an organization—endorsed slate of candidates for state offices.

Montessori Society to Open Year Wednesday

The Edwardsville Montessori Society opens its year with the topic "The Montessori Prepared Environment" at 8 p.m. Wednesday, at The Children's House, located on the lower level of Eden United Church of Christ, 903 Second St., Edwardsville.

Conducting the study session for anyone interested in learning about the Montessori approach to early childhood education will be Mrs. Charlene Tronita, directress of The Children's House.

Non-members may attend the lecture for $1. Family memberships in the Edwardsville society are $15 per year.

Membership entitles the holder to attend workshops planned by the society for educators and parents, receive a newsletter dealing with Montessori and child development topics, hear lectures by prominent Montessorians and participate in activities for The Children's House, the newly-opened Montessori child development center.

Parents of Children's House students may join the society for $10.

Meter Collections Down in Past Month

Receipts from Granite City parking meter fees and fines during September decreased from previous months, according to figures released by Robert Stevens, city clerk.

A total of $3,151 was collected during the month, including $2,639 in fees and $501 in fines. This is a drop from the $3,952 collected in August and the $4,212 collected in July.

The total for the first nine months of the year is $34,392, slightly below the total during the same period last year of $35,577.

Meters operated 25 days during the month and the average daily collection was $126, down from the $152 per day in August and $182 per day average in July. The average daily collection during September 1970 was $175.

Big Increase in Assets of University Foundation Here

Assets in the Southern Illinois University Foundation at SIU-SW have increased almost 1000% during the last five years, Charles Schweizer, associate director of the SIU Foundation, said at the fall meeting of the foundation in Chicago Thursday. Assets now total $191,591.

The number of loan funds has increased from one to 36, Schweizer said, and endowments have increased from two to 17.

"The amazing thing," Schweizer reported, "is the growth of assets since last April, when the foundation board members held their spring meeting. The increase exceeds $50,000. An anonymous gift to the endowment fund of nearly $26,000 accounts for half of the increase," he said.

Schweizer also reported that students are including SIU with significant amounts in their insurance policies."

Brightest event in recent SIU-SW area Foundation activities, he said, was the formation in September of a Business and Industrial Relations Committee of Metropolitan St. Louis, spearheaded by Gilbert K. Trimble of St. Louis, an industrial consultant with offices in East St. Louis.

This committee will meet four times a year to report on its activities and plan its future, Schweizer said. Other members of the committee include E. R. Castevane of Jennings, Mo., director of Technical and Adult Education at SIU-SW; Omer W. Delaney, Alton, Olin Industries; Gene Graves, assistant to SIU-SW president John S. Rendleman; Ambrose W. Harbert, Bank of Centralia; and Robert B. Burdard, Manufacturing Co. of St. Louis.

Other committee members are Charles Manning, vice president for finance, Midwest Rubber Reclaiming Co.; Carl Ranft, executive director, Tri-City Regional Port District, Granite City; Louis H. Schaffly, vice-president of Union National Bank, Collinsville; A. Noel Sullivan, president of ITA Travel Advisors, Alton; and Dr. William J. Tudor, director of Regional and Urban Development Studies and Services, SIU-SW.

Environmental Council Will Open Fall Series

The Madison County Citizens' Environmental Council will open its fall series of meetings with the question: "What's all this trash about open burning?"

The meeting, open to the public, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at First Federal Savings and Loan, 300 St. Louis St., Edwardsville. Three panelists will discuss three issues: Dr. Arthur Zahalsky, new chairman of the Biology Department, SIU-SW, will talk about health effects. Children, especially, suffer from asthma due to open burning, he believes, and heart and emphysema patients are affected.

William Keenum, new city manager at Highland, will offer municipal solutions to the new open burning regulation in Illinois. Ted Busch of Monsanto Enviro-Chem Systems will show slides about a pyrolysis method of solid waste disposal.
